USEFUL READINGS

COHRED Colloquia aim to advance global health through intense, focused and multi-sector interactions of those key people and institutions who can shape research and innovation by viewing current challenges in a new light to create opportunities for new partnerships and finding new solutions

This meeting concerns the Research Fairness Initiative (RFI) – its use, implementation and future improvements. To be familiar with the latest on the RFI and the topics for discussion, we recommend you read / browse / explore the following readings.

1. RFI Website : rfi.cohred.org

2. RFI Summary Guide – an overview of the RFI, its ‘domains, topics and indicators’ of fairness in research partnerships

3. RFI Reporting Guide – a detailed guide for institutions on how to answer questions and document current institutional practices and policies in research collaboration

4. RFI Implementation Guide – a set of suggestions and options on how to institutionalise the RFI writing as a key strategic tool for any stakeholder in collaborative research

5. Barend Mons, et al. Cloudy, increasingly FAIR; revisiting the FAIR Data guiding principles for the European Open Science Cloud. Information Services & Use 37 (2017) 49–56. DOI 10.3233/ISU-170824.

6. Global Reporting Initiative. Website : www.globalreporting.org . For ideas on governance and evolution of the RFI over the years.

NB. We will send e-copies of all of the above, and provide printed copies of the 3 RFI Guides and the RFI Brochure (in English) – so you do not have to print or take it with you, unless you wish to do so.

This event will be hosted in collaboration with the Swiss KFPE:
