

Strengthening health systems in Southern Africa. From Research to Action -- from Local to International

We advocate for efforts to prevent and treat disease and conditions that meet three criteria: they cause widespread illness and death in developing countries; they represent the greatest inequalities in health between developed and developing countries; and they receive inadequate attention and funding. Get the file